ART IN STEM RESEARCH: FSU STEM Student Art Gallery Exhibit
Science outreach event funded by ASCB COMPASS and hosted by Graduate Women in Science
This outreach event aims to advocate for research in STEM by attracting public attention, not with the technicalities of scientific research, but with its beauty. This event will be held in the FSU Dirac Library in Spring 2015. Attendees will learn more about STEM research at FSU and its broader impact to society.
Does your data capture the artistic beauty of scientific research? Submit one of your images for potential exhibition in the event. This event is open to all FSU students and Postdocs conducting research in STEM. (Science Technology, Engineering, Mathematics).
For more information or to submit artwork, visit http://www.bio.fsu.edu/scienceArt/index.php
