How We Train Our Employees & Students

RUN HIDE FIGHT

In many cases, there is no pattern or method to the selection of victims by an active shooter, and these situations are, by their very nature, unpredictable and evolve quickly.

A screenshot of the FSU Guardian web interface. The header includes the FSU Guardian logo and navigation links for "Anne", "Help", and "Log Out". Below the header is a "My Account" section. The main content area is divided into several sections: "Anne Tesser" profile with personal details (Height: 5 feet 3 inches, Weight: 125 lbs, Hair: Blonde, Eyes: Hazel) and a "Special Notes" field containing "I am an insulin dependent diabetic."; "Mobile Phones" section with a listed number (1) 850-445-9516 and a "Test" button; "Email" section with a registration email aqt07@my.fsu.edu and a "Test" button; "Emergency Contacts" section with a contact named "Bill Tesser"; and "Vehicles" section with a listed vehicle "2008 Ford Escape SUV". On the right side, there is a "Guardian" section with instructions on how to use the service, including a timer dial number (850-807-4949) and a link to send information to a mobile phone. There is also a "Learn More" link.

A red emergency call station stands on a concrete sidewalk. The word "Emergency" is printed vertically in white on the red pole. The station has a silver top section and a small, illegible label near the bottom. In the background, there is a large brick building with multiple windows and a tree.

Adopt-A-Cop Program

Citizens Police Academy

Our Programs

The RAD program has been in place at FSUPD for several years, trained thousands of women and has proven to be a very popular program.

The Adopt-A-Copp program is a way for FSUPD to provide positive interaction with its residence hall students in a unique capacity. The Adopt-A-Copps conduct educational and crime prevention programs, attend hall and staff meetings, and conduct periodic security checks of their halls. Adopt-A-Copps can become very popular in their halls!

The Florida State University Police Department saw a need to provide an “inside view” of law enforcement operations to our campus community. We developed a curriculum and invited campus members (Faculty, Staff and Students) to join us for the Citizen’s Police Academy.
